PROSECUTOR IN TOKYO TO START TRIALS

Warlord Hideki Tojo and Pearl Harbor Cabinet Lead Parade of Defendants

ORDER MORE ARRESTS

By MURLIN SPENCER
Tokyo, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Chief prosecutor Jos. B. Keenan announced today that the first war crimes trials in Japan tentatively were scheduled for January—with warlord Hideki Tojo and his Pearl Harbor cabinet leading the parade of defendants.

"The accused will be presumed innocent until proved guilty," Keenan, General MacArthur's special staff counsel, told a news conference. But he added that "Japanese war criminals must be punished and humiliated so that they will go down in history as ordinary felons of the lowest type."

He declined comment on the Allied attitude toward Emperor Hirohito.

The death penalty will be asked at the trials, he indicated.

He said he found President Truman and General MacArthur to be in accord on questions affecting trial procedure and on the requirement that trials be concluded as rapidly as possible.

Like their German counterparts, Japanese war crimes suspects will be tried in groups. An international court seems likely, since other interested powers have been asked to nominate members. None has complied thus far, Keenan reported.

On top of General MacArthur's order for the arrest of Marquis Koichi Kido, the arrival of Keenan in Japan brought full realization to the Nipponese that the Allies mean business in rooting out aggressors. The order against Kido reached as close to the throne as MacArthur could get without arresting Emperor Hirohito himself.

Even before Nippon could recover from the shock of the MacArthur order for the arrest of Kido, who was lord keeper of the privy seal and Hirohito's closest adviser, Prince Fumimaro Kono and seven others, there came two more explosive developments.

Edwin W. Pauley, U. S. reparations commissioner, recommended confiscation of all Japanese assets abroad, including those of the emperor; remove from the country of the industrial potentials of the Zaibatsu (family monopoly); and huge slashes in ship-

Hauser Is Facing Cross Examination

Uniontown, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Frederick E. Hauser, 18-year-old confessed slayer of Anna Dreyer, 14-year-old "Sunshine Girl," today faced cross-examination by District Attorney H. Vance Cotton.

Hauser entered a general plea of guilty to a charge of murder on Tuesday but his trial was continued so that Judge W. Russell Carr might determine the degree of guilt.

The young ex-sailor first told his story under the questioning yesterday of Defense Attorney Paul K. McCormick. Most of his testimony agreed with what he told state police earlier, in a statement which officers had entered in the record.

His testimony, however, differed on one point: He said his mind went blank during the time Miss Dreyer was killed and that he could not tell how it happened.

The red-headed ex-sailor said his mind had been similarly affected at other times since October, 1944, when he was blown from an LST during a landing operation at Leyte and was unconscious for five days.

Vast Sea and Air Armada In Search for Missing Bombers

Miami, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—A vast sea and air armada was ordered today to scan 100,000 square miles of the Atlantic in a "last chance" effort to rescue 27 men who disappeared with a formation of five torpedo bombers and a missing search plane.

The navy alone ordered 248 planes into the air, while 18 surface craft—including the baby flattop U.S.S. Solomons—numerous merchant ships and other searchers made it probably the biggest rescue effort of peacetime.

Two clues seemed sufficiently definite to remove some of the mystery that cloaked the disappearance of the entire formation of bombers, carrying 14 men, and the big Martin rescue craft that joined them in the Atlantic's limbo.

Two Victims of "Day Of Infamy" Are Back

Philadelphia, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Exactly four years after the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor two victims of that "day of infamy"—the battleships California and Tennessee—today were back in United States waters.

The 24-year-old California was sunk and the Tennessee suffered two bomb hits in the Pearl Harbor raid but both saw much action before the war's end.

Both vessels, each carrying more than 2,000 men and officers, will drop anchor at the Philadelphia naval base—the climax of a 15,000-mile journey from Tokyo bay.

Five Dead In Explosion In Clearfield Co.

Clearfield, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Five persons perished in an explosion of pellet powder which last night destroyed the home of Clarence Caber, in the mining community of Ramey, 25 miles south of here.

The dead were Caber, 28, a miner who succumbed in Phillipsburg State Hospital early today of burns; his wife, Rose, 26, and their children, Delores, 7, Eugene, 4, and their children, Delores, 7, Eugene, 4, and their children, Delores, 7, Eugene, 4.

Ceiling Prices Of Newsprint Hiked

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The OPA has announced an increase of $6 a ton in newsprint ceiling prices.

While the increase is effective December 11, OPA said the industry generally would not apply it until January 1, since most newsprint is sold on a yearly contract basis, with quarterly adjustments.

The agency said that while the purpose of the increase is to assure prices that are "generally fair and equitable," it also "should operate to check further decreases in United States newsprint production, which has been gradually declining for some years."

The higher prices apply to all newsprint sold in this country, including imports which represent three-fourths of total consumption. Canada is the principal source of imports.

Edinboro Man Disappears In Mysterious Manner In Warren

Local police are confronted with a mystery in the disappearance of John Mukina, of Edinboro, who was last seen sitting in a chair in the Carver House. Mukina, 26 years of age, had been discharged from the U. S. Army only a month ago and came to Warren with his brother, George Mukina, and Glenn Woods on a hunting expedition. He was in fine health and was known to have a large sum of money on his person.

Wednesday morning at an early hour the three drove to Warren to secure a sandwich and stopped at the Richie Diner. Woods and George Mukina entered the diner and left John Mukina asleep in the automobile. When the two men came out of the diner Mukina had awakened and left the car. His coat and cap were in the machine.

Search was made around the town by the two men and they learned that at 7:30 he had been asleep in a chair at the Carver Hotel. When he left or where he went after leaving is still a mystery.

Woods and George Mukina, thinking that perhaps the man had returned to his home at Edinboro, drove to their home there. However, there was no sign of the man nor had he communicated with any of the family.

The two men returned to Warren this morning and made a report to the police and are assisting in a search under way.

Proposed Plan For Pullman Sale Opposed

Philadelphia, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Sale of the nation's sleeping car business by Pullman, Inc., to a combine of 43 railroads is opposed by the department of justice on grounds it "would merely substitute a new monopoly for the one now condemned by court."

The government, in a 27-page brief filed in federal court here, also claims three other bidders for the Pullman sleeping equipment may not be suitable purchasers.

Holmes Baldrige, special assistant to Attorney General Thomas Clark, in filing the brief yesterday indicated the United States would fight sale of Pullman's fleet of 7,000 cars and servicing equipment to the railroads for $75,000,000.

Pullman told a special expediting court Nov. 13 it wished per-

Witnesses Awaited By Court Martial

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The court martial of Navy Capt. Charles B. McVay III, marked time today, awaiting the arrival of additional witnesses to tell how his ship, the cruiser, Indianapolis, sank in Philippine waters last July 30.

The seven-man trial board scheduled a session today, but Rear Admiral Wilder D. Baker, court president, said no testimony would be heard.

The prosecution, which has devoted four days to its presentation of charges that McVay failed to order a zigzag course and "to issue timely orders" to abandon ship, has no additional witnesses on hand, Baker said at the conclusion of yesterday's session.

Approximately 20 more have been called and are en route to Washington, he added.

BRITISH FLAGS ON NAZI SHIPS FOR INVASION

Details of Speedy Fifth Column Conquest of Norway and Denmark Are Disclosed

ON ORDER OF DOENITZ

BULLETIN
Nuernberg, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Hitler's armies were poised for the invasion of the low countries and France Nov. 7, 1939, but the attack was postponed week by week for six months because of bad weather, official German records disclosed at the war crimes trial here today. While the rest of the world spoke sarcastically of a "phony war," the German military machine was ready and "waiting only for favorable weather," according to records introduced before the international military tribunal. British prosecutors turned most of their evidence against the German military and naval leaders among the 20 top-ranking Hitlerites accused of war crimes, pointing out their part in plans for the crushing invasion while Hitler deceitfully told Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg that he had no plans to attack them.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Nuernberg, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The German navy's warships and camouflaged troop transports carried British flags and signals to disguise the speedy fifth column conquest of Norway and Denmark, it was revealed today by the war crimes trial of 20 of Hitler's tribu-

Read into evidence before the international military tribunal was the order of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander in chief of the German navy, to use British flags on German ships, which slipped into Scandinavian ports on the eve of invasion.

The detailed story of treachery and intrigue leading to the downfall of Germany's little neighbors in April, 1940, disclosed that the plot to use the fifth column of German U-boat bases was engineered largely by Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and Alfred Rosenberg, two of the accused nazis on trial.

Official German naval orders introduced as evidence included instructions that "the disguise as British craft must be kept as long as possible." The government denied repeatedly in 1940 that their vessels had flown British flags.

All challenges were to be answered with the names of British warships and arrangements were made to illuminate British war flags on the masts of the German vessels, the order disclosed.

Farrell Folk Take Tax Raise To Save Jobs

Farrell, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The 14,000 residents of Farrell didn't want to live in a ghost town—so they raised their taxes to provide 4,000 more jobs.

They approved a big hike in per cent of business properties, 20 per cent on residential sites—in order to help a local steel corporation reopen mills and bring the 4,000 jobs back.

They authorized city council to forgive the company—Sharon Steel Corp.—$100,000 in taxes annually for a period of one to five years until the mills make good. Then, they said, taxes will be lowered again.

Erie Fire Loss Is Estimated $400,000

Erie, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Revising upwards his estimate of damage in the fire which swept the Lyons Transportation Company warehouse and office here yesterday, assistant Fire Chief Edward P. Flanagan placed the loss at $400,000.

The estimate was doubled when the quantities of freight destroyed by fire in the warehouse were disclosed. They included 500 automobile tires, three tons of hard-to-get butter, three tons of meat, 35 new refrigerators, 15 new stoves, one ton of Christmas candy, seven tractors and four truck bodies.

The freight was scheduled for shipment to such communities as Titusville, Union City, Oil City and Jamestown, N. Y.

Flanagan said the fire started when welding sparks ignited grease in a garage. Oil drums exploded, spreading the flames rapidly, but 20 employees at work escaped injury.

Warnings Would Have Been Confusing Marshall States

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators today that Admiral Harold R. Stark thought warnings to Pacific commanders on Dec. 7, 1941, would "only confuse them."

So Stark, then chief of naval operations, at first opposed sending such warnings after it became clear that trouble was brewing for the United States that day, Marshall told the senate-house committee investigating the attack.

Effort To Settle Dispute In G. M. Plants Highlights the Country's Strike Picture

Efforts to settle the nation's major labor dispute, the walkout of some 200,000 employees at General Motors plants, highlighted the country's strike picture today.

An offer of a 10 per cent wage increase to the strikers came at yesterday's initial conference since the start of the walkout last November 21 between company and CIO United Auto Workers leaders.

It was promptly rejected by the union, but another meeting was arranged today to continue wage negotiations.

Despite the union's rejection of the 13½ cents an hour increase as against the union's demand for a 30 per cent boost, there remained an air of optimism in Detroit that some avenue of approach to settlement of the wage dispute might be found.

At the same time, General Motors offered a 13½ cents an hour hike to 25,000 CIO United Electrical Workers who are demanding a $2 a day boost. The electrical workers, who are planning a strike vote Dec. 13 with about 245,000 employees in General Electric and Westinghouse plants, voted on the offer but results were not immediately announced.

GM's offer was termed by H. W. Anderson, company vice president, as a "reinstatement of the pre-strike offer of approximately 10 per cent," which he said would boost wages of GM workers to 30 per cent above the January, 1941, level.

UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther, however, estimated it would raise the average rate of $1.15 an hour by 11½ per cent and he described it as "a better offer than the one made prior to the strike."

The General Motors walkout involved approximately one half of the total idle throughout the country because of labor disputes.

Also in Detroit, two federal conciliators arranged conferences with UAW-CIO and Chrysler Corporation officials. Contract negotiations broke down earlier and although strike action has been approved it is being withheld pending further developments in the GM walkout.

The company union contract, covering some 45,000 employees, expired Dec. 4.

Two More Escape From Bellefonte

Bellefonte, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Escape of two more convicts from Rockview prison farm, the ninth and tenth to flee in two months, left prison officials puzzled today.

"We can't understand it," said Deputy Warden C. C. Rhoads of the break last night which saw Ira Keener, 27, Mercer county, and Manley F. Parks, Bradford county elude two guards during milking chores at two barns outside the stockade.

The trusty-prisoners were part of a group of 11 assigned to milk a herd of cattle. Rhoads said, "While going to their places inside the barns, they slipped out a back door. Their departure was noticed about 10 minutes later."

Thirty-five special officers, together with state and local police, scoured the mountainous area for the two young prisoners. Keener was serving two to four years for sodomy and Parks, two to 10 years for robbery and assault and battery.

ALL-OUT FIGHT LOOMS OVER TOLL BRIDGES

Harrisburg, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The commonwealth pledged an all-out fight today in opposing litigation aimed at halting its $7,000,000 program to buy and free privately owned toll highways in Pennsylvania.

The People's Bridge Company, Harrisburg, owner of the Walnut street toll bridge, filed suit in Dauphin county court to restrain the state from purchasing the Sunbury bridge until it is ascertained whether $7,000,000 is enough to buy all of them.

"I will fight this action with all the vigor and power I possess," said Highways Secretary John W. Shroyer, named a defendant with Auditor General G. Harold Wagner and State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black.

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.), a member of the senate-house group investigating the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, told reporters that the executive session dealt with the admission of certain evidence. He said it was decided the evidence should be entered in its entirety.

He did not elaborate but there was one report that the evidence under consideration was correspondence between Marshall and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 1944 Republican nominee for president.

It previously has been reported that Dewey withheld from publication at Marshall's request, information showing the United States was decoding secret Japanese messages.

Senator George (D-Ga.) told reporters that General Marshall was eager to get away to his new job as President Truman's special envoy in China.

"He has his plane in a standby condition," said George, "but I don't think he'll get away tonight."

Gen. Marshall's task, on his second day of testimony, was cut out for him last August.

FORMER JAP COMMANDER IS CONVICTED

First Top War Criminal of Pacific To Be Found Guilty and Sentenced To Die

DENIES BRUTALITIES

By DEAN SCHIEDLER
Manila, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A general U. S. military commission on this Pearl Harbor anniversary decreed death by hanging for Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita. Later—still protesting that "my conscience is clear"—the conqueror of Singapore and former Japanese commander in the Philippines was returned to new Bilibid prison. There he will await review of the court's findings.

There was no indication when the sentence might be carried out.

Manila, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita was "the perfect client," Col. Harry Clarke, chief defense counsel, said today.

"That's one verdict I didn't expect," Clarke admitted. He said he was the only member of the defense staff who had anticipated acquittal.

The former Japanese commander, who said "I will leave all decisions to my counsel," rewarded each of the attorneys. He gave Clarke, who is from Altoona, Pa., a silver watch, his ribbons, and the field tea set which accompanied him through the Singapore and Philippine campaigns.

Yamashita has an appeal on jurisdiction grounds pending with the U. S. Supreme Court. He also can appeal the military commission's decision to Lt. Gen. W. D. Stuedeman, commander of army forces in the Western Pacific; to General MacArthur, Allied commander in the Pacific; and to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The beribboned general listened stony-faced as the court held him responsible for permitting "a series of atrocities and high crimes by Japanese armed forces" under his command in the Philippines.

Major Fight Is Expected Over British Loan

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The administration marshaled its arguments today behind a $4,000,000,000 credit offer to Britain, convinced that any major congressional change would imperil hopes for Anglo-American trade cooperation.

The two governments climaxed three months of diplomatic talks by announcing last night a broad economic agreement tied to financial help from this country.

That help under the agreement would come from a $3,750,000,000 cash loan and a $650,000,000 settlement for postwar lend-lease and war surpluses. Both would be repaid at two per cent interest over a 50-year period beginning in 1951.

Only the outright loan needs congressional approval, but every sign pointed to a bitter struggle. Harsh words heard from both sides in the house even before the credit agreement was officially announced.

Asking anonymity, state department and treasury officials who participated in the talks here said today they are convinced that any major change in the loan terms would force Britain to reject the loan altogether and pursue her own economic course within a restricted bloc of countries.

As a part of the credit agreement, Britain agreed to cooperate with this country toward worldwide trade expansion by lowering such barriers as tariffs and cartels.

Alias Santa Gave Out With Smile at Checks This Morning

Alias Santa Claus this morning gave out with a smile. It was not one of those broad smiles for which the old fellow is noted but rather a sort of twitching at the corners of the mouth. In the morning mail he got two nice checks for $5 each. His eyes twinkled and if you would really like to hear him let out a loud guffaw hustle in some checks and cash donations. Nothing makes the old boy feel so good as liberal gifts to his fund.

Both the check and crisp $5 bill received this morning were from folks who just didn't let their right hand pocket know what the left hand pocket is doing and they wanted no publicity. Seems that a lot of folks do not care for publicity when they do good. Nice, isn't it?

And just to be gossipy about this Alias Santa Claus Fund let the folks who do the buying make a suggestion as to how the Christmas gifts for the needy kids can be enlarged. Get the gifts in while stocks are good so that more advantageous buying can be done. It's a big job getting the things needed and with the stores selling out stocks at a gallop...

Buying must be done early. So, get in your gifts to the Alias Santa Claus Fund so his helpers can get busy making this a Merry Christmas for many.

"ANCHORS AWEIGH"

Moderate Improvements Are Made at the State Hospital

The Warren State Hospital during the past few months has made a number of moderate improvements but due to the war emergency the outlined program could not be followed out. However when essential materials are released a renovation and replacement program will be instituted.

Plans for the important work have been made by Meyers and Johnson, an Erie firm of Architects and the work underway is being done by Sessinghaus and Ostergaard, Inc., Contractors of Erie.

During the past weeks much has been done toward correcting fire hazards at the big institution by installing new concrete and terrazzo first floors in the Infirmary building and the four Annexes. The old floors in the infirmary have been replaced with concrete slabs and terrazzo finish.

The contractors are still at work on the erection of a one story stone addition to the old laundry building. This when completed will provide adequate space for the canning facilities which have been set up on the first floor of that building. The canning project at the State Hospital gives work to about 120 men and women patients preparing and processing of vegetables and fruits. These are all raised on the farm of the Hospital and it is shown in the projected improvements for the hospital that $60,000 in additional farm lands are needed.

This year in the face of the shortage of farm labor the Hospital Farms have produced in a most pleasing manner and the canning season shows a record pack of 123,520 quarts of fruits and vegetables. As this is all used in the dining rooms of the Hospital it results in a great saving in the operation of the institution.

The contract work under has involved considerable amount of work by the regular employees of the Hospital in moving and changing piping to suit the new construction, and the agreement has necessitated the expenditure of $77,090.

The Warren Institution is one of the model Hospitals of the state and Superintendent Robert H. Israel, M. D., is to be congratulated on the operation of the big institution so successfully during the war emergency.

Outing Club Entertainment Promises Fun

Entertainment at the Marconi Outing Club this week promises much fun for those who attend. Two floor shows will be presented each evening over the weekend and dancing will be enjoyed as usual.

During the past few weeks the crowds at the club have had much to please them in the way of entertainment and the vogue of dancing seems to have increased. More and more are finding out the ability of the musicians at the club to present good music for dancing and the orchestra has just secured a large number of new and popular melodies that will be played at the club for the first time.

Victory Class Is Planned By Moose Lodge

Warren Lodge of Moose during the months past has been busy keeping its honor roll in order, due to the fact that 265 men of the local lodge were serving in various branches of the U. S. service. The lodge has also sent many parcels to all the men and has constantly tried to keep them in touch with the Moose Lodge.

Now an effort is being made to honor the men who are returning in large numbers and also the six members of Warren Lodge who gave their lives in the war. To that end Merle Clark, of Pittsburgh, is in the city working with Gust Sandstrom recruiting a Victory Class. It is hoped to have at least 200 new members to be initiated in the class.

Every member of the order in Warren is being appealed to by Mr. Clark to aid in the work and every member is asked to bring in at least one man. The Moose is one of the leading clubs in the city and, with a fine club house and many amusement and recreational facilities, has a strong appeal.

It is expected that success will meet the efforts being made by Mr. Clark and the Moose members.

LEST WE FORGET

We all remember that fateful Sunday four years ago today. It started out as any normal Sunday, and then the news broke that Jap planes were bombing Pearl Harbor. It was hard to believe and as late as Sunday night still seemed unreal. But by Monday morning sober reflection made us realize there was a war to fight—a war that caught us unprepared but one we would finish.

Who can ever forget those early, frantic days? Sons, husbands, fathers left home for training camps and then across to win a war for us. We asked them to do a job and they did it so thoroughly and quickly that the end came far ahead of schedule. But in our happiness that it's over, we are in danger of forgetting a promise we made ourselves. As each boy left, we asked for his safe return and in our hearts promised to bring him back again.

The fighting war is over but our promise is not fulfilled. Not until every American soldier is home, not until every wounded man is restored to health, not until every veteran has a place in civilian life will our promise be kept.

Before us today is an opportunity to pay part of our obligation to those brave men to whom we owe so much. By the purchase of Victory Bonds we lend the money needed to do all those things which gratitude and humanity require. It is our duty, our responsibility, and our privilege to buy Victory Bonds. That we greatly benefit ourselves through this safest of all investments should receive only secondary consideration from patriotic Warren citizens.

The Victory Loan Drive will soon be over but the good that will come from our present Victory Bond purchases will last through the years to come.

ARCH SEES A MORAL

Arch Bristow, who right now is writing the best column he has ever produced for the Erie Dispatch-Herald, wrote a real editorial the other evening that fits into the plan Warren is endeavoring to promote. The fact that Warren county can be made homelike for visitors and that friendships enduring and strong can grow out of hunting parties visiting this county.

Arch says: By the time this deer season is over, hunters will have paid Warren County farmers a total of several thousand dollars in board bills. This little harvest from the hunting season isn't a bad thing for the farmers. They can use it, even if eggs are 68 cents a dozen. The Sportsman's League, and Warren's Chamber of Commerce have done a fine job getting boarding places for hunters. All hotels are full, and there are not half enough hunting camps. Some city fellers are making their first acquaintance with an old fashioned feather bed. And do they ever love that soft warmth on cold nights, after a long day on a chilly deer crossing!

But something is happening that no one thought of. From the hunters' viewpoint it is a wonderful thing. The hunter and farmer are fraternizing. Around the big wood stove these chill December nights the farmer and his family gather with their boarder-hunters. If there are young hunters, you may depend upon it, the farmer's pretty daughter is there, blushing red as the apples her Dad brings up from the cellar in a huge bowl. Stories are told. The farmer himself has done a little hunting. And, before bed-time has ticked around on the old hall clock, farmer and hunter have gotten pretty well acquainted. There is a trading of viewpoints, and a new understanding.

Ten o'clock! Gettin' a little late for folks who light the lantern for morning milking at 5 a. m. But friendships have now grown so warm the farmer is prompted to bring out his best plum brandy, or "skip-along," a homemade brandy born of the red wild plum. It's a warming drink. It seems to go to the heart rather than to the head. The farmer's wife has made ready the three oil lamps the men will take upstairs to their rooms. She has trimmed the wicks, polished the glass chimneys till they gleam, lighted the lamps and turned them low. But still the farmer and his boarders, sipping their wild plum brandy, swap stories, and become better and better friends. The hunters invite the farmer and his wife, not forgetting the red cheeked daughter, to visit them in town. Very often he accepts the invitation. And a lasting friendship has begun.

Nothing better could happen to the hunter than to build up a friendship with the man around whose land he hunts. It will do more for hunting than a lot of new laws. All the troubles in the world, or most of them, could be cured by men getting to know each other. These are great nights out on the farms.

Churchill's Attack Daring Challenge to Labor Regime

BY DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP World Traveler

London—Former Prime Minister Churchill's all-out attack on the new labor government, as leader of the recently defeated conservative party, represents the sudden thought not unexpected opening of a conservative offensive to discredit the laborites (or socialists, as they frequently designate themselves) and regain public support.

Churchill made a daring challenge—daring because it is one from which there is no retreat—when he defined the issue as that of "the people versus the Socialists."

Churchill is a great political strategist, and from the appraisal being given him by his followers it would seem that they think he has picked the plan which has the best chance of success. An impartial observer can only remark that the old maestro is playing a very long shot. The socialists at this writing are holding a strong position, and no man can prophesy the future with any degree of certainty.

Britain's wartime premier has employed the political tactics of pushing the laborites onto a premise which they themselves not only had not taken but had disavowed. This is, as he puts it, that the "socialist doctrine" in carrying out their program will rob the country of "that reasonable prosperity and freedom for all classes on which we have hitherto built our English and British way of life." Such a claim of course envisages extreme nationalization and regimentation of the individual.

That's strong mustard, and when Mr. Churchill states the 'position in this way he is voicing the extreme view of the socialist intentions. Certainly they plan to regulate society to some degree, but the rank and file disavow any intention of regimentation. Their announced program calls for nationalization of the nation's vital industries, but they say that others will be left free of control. The party has come out officially against communism and totalitarianism.

He put it in this grim fashion: "The vote of the electors at the general election was one of the greatest disasters that has befallen this country through its long and chequered history. It forced us with sorrow, but without fear, that in the next few years we shall come to fundamental quarrels in this country. It seems impossible to escape the fact that events are moving and will move toward the issue—the people versus the socialists."

treme view of the socialist intentions. Certainly they plan to regulate society to some degree, but the rank and file disavow any intention of regimentation. Their announced program calls for nationalization of the nation's vital industries, but they say that others will be left free of control. The party has come out officially against communism and totalitarianism.

He put it in this grim fashion: "The vote of the electors at the general election was one of the greatest disasters that has befallen this country through its long and chequered history. It forced us with sorrow, but without fear, that in the next few years we shall come to fundamental quarrels in this country. It seems impossible to escape the fact that events are moving and will move toward the issue—the people versus the socialists."

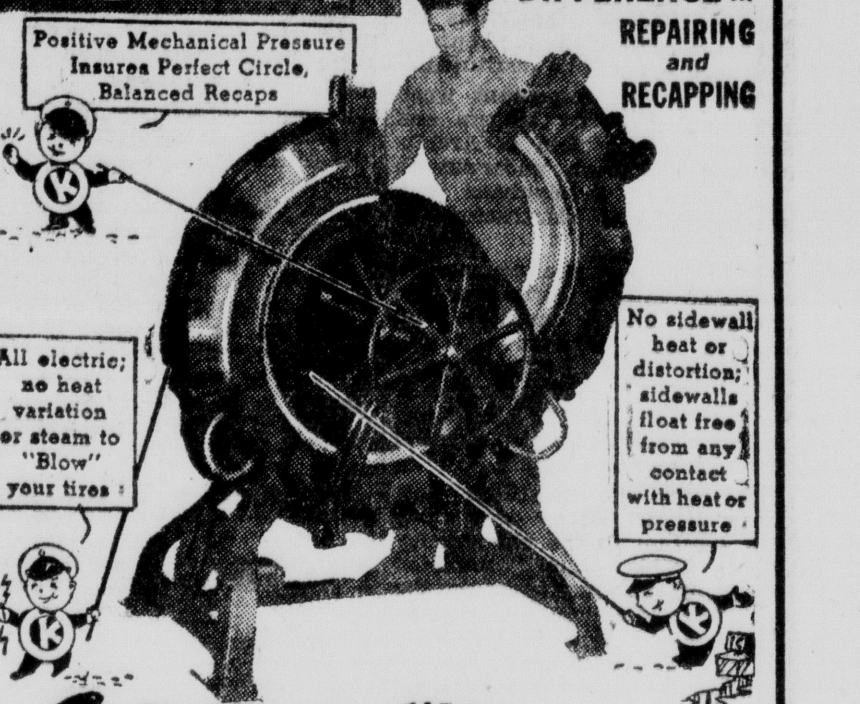

Churchill is a great political strategist, and from the appraisal being given him by his followers it would seem that they think he has picked the plan which has the best chance of success. An impartial observer can only remark that the old maestro is playing a very long shot. The socialists at this writing are holding a strong position, and no man can prophesy the future with any degree of certainty.

Britain's wartime premier has employed the political tactics of pushing the laborites onto a premise which they themselves not only had not taken but had disavowed. This is, as he puts it, that the "socialist doctrine" in carrying out their program will rob the country of "that reasonable prosperity and freedom for all classes on which we have hitherto built our English and British way of life." Such a claim of course envisages extreme nationalization and regimentation of the individual.

That's strong mustard, and when Mr. Churchill states the 'position in this way he is voicing the extreme view of the socialist intentions. Certainly they plan to regulate society to some degree, but the rank and file disavow any intention of regimentation. Their announced program calls for nationalization of the nation's vital industries, but they say that others will be left free of control. The party has come out officially against communism and totalitarianism.

YOU FOLKS SEEM TO BE PROSPERING... SO I'M GOING TO CHARGE YOU EXTRA!

Would this be fair?

Can you imagine your milkman, grocer, barber or tailor charging you extra just because you were able to pay more than some people?

Of course you can't. And what a state of confusion everything would soon be in if people tried to operate that way.

Suppose the people GM workers trade with told them, "We know you make more than most industrial workers, so we're going to charge you more for everything!"

Yet this is exactly the principle UAW-CIO leaders are trying to establish in their wage demands on General Motors.

To be logical, union leaders should also say to a company that is losing money, "You're having a hard time making both ends meet, so we're suggesting a cut in wages."

Can you imagine any union leader ever making such an offer? Of course, you can't.

John Barleycorn Led Couple Into Hands of Warren Police

Old Bobby Burns, the Bard of Scotia knew full well what happens when folks "get fu and uncó happy" but evidently a couple on upper East street had never had the experience of Robert. Last night when the fellow called on his gal friend he evidently took with him a vial of joy juice and during the evening both enjoyed a jigger or two.

As the hours grew late Old John Barleycorn took a hand in the party and the couple quarreled. Angry tones rent the air where only billing and cooing had been heard before. Neighbors with a desire to sleep called the police and the cruiser car brought the pair to the police station. The fellow was booked as being intoxicated and the gal was questioned. She was well befogged with the libations of the evening and finally the police deposited her in the county jail. The fellow left a crisp $5 as bail and departed but his lady friend today had a little business with Justice Greenlund. Ah, me! the peritidy of man.

Two folks who drove their cars too fast for the conditions of the avenues of the town were also gathered in by the police. One of them was a woman.

STRONG OR WEAK BID MAKES THIS HAND

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

At the recent Metropolitan Tournament in New York, in which Bertram Lebar, Jr., Simon Rossant, Waldemar con Zedtwitz and Samuel Katz won the championship, I was kibitzing the match when today's hand came up.

It is quite a sensation to pick up a hand as big as this one. Mrs. Helen Sobel, who was playing with Charles H. Goren of Philadelphia, opened the bidding with four no trump. Goren bid five no trump and Mrs. Sobel went to six no trump. The queen of clubs was opened. Mrs. Sobel won and led one spade. When both East and West followed, she spread the hand.

Samuel Katz and Waldemar con

Zedtwitz were using the above weak two-bid. Their only forcing two-bid is two clubs. The bidding shown is the way it happened at their table. Can you imagine opening with an artificial two-bid, and then find when the bidding gets back to you that the opponents have bid five of your suit?

Katz made a very nice bid when he went to five no trump. This certainly told his partner that he had a tremendous hand. Von Zedtwitz's bid of six spades guaranteed five spades and something on the outside. This was enough for Katz to go to seven spades, which also was a spread.

FOE'S PLAY RECOVERS BIDDER IN SACRIFICE

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

Jay T. Feigus of Brooklyn found himself in a peculiar position when he got into a five-diamond contract on today's hand. He had bid five diamonds as a sacrifice against East's four-heart contract. When the dummy went down, he realized that in all probability four hearts could not have been made, so he decided he would have to make his five-diamond contract.

Feigus ruffed the second heart trick and led the king of diamonds. When East showed out, he cashed the queen of diamonds and led the ten-spot. West refused to cover. Feigus then went over to dummy with a small club, led the jack of spades, East covered with the king and Feigus won. He realized that the only way he could make the contract was to find West with the nine of spades. He therefore led the eight of spades, and when West refused to cover, he let it ride. East won with the queen, but then the defense could take no more tricks.

Early Return On Christmas Seals Is Asked

An appeal to citizens who have not yet purchased their Christmas Seals to do so promptly was made today by H. M. Mohr, Seal sale chairman.

"In the rush of preparations for Christmas some persons overlooked or have forgotten to make their returns," he continued. "Therefore, we are taking the liberty of calling their attention to

WORTHY CAUSE

The Warren County Tuberculosis Society has received the following note in a letter enclosing a $2.00 contribution for Christmas Seals: "Dear Friends: Thank you. We would give more if it were possible, since tuberculosis caused a death in our family. We cannot give more; so we hope other people will. Sincerely, this matter. I am confident that those who have overlooked sending in their contribution will respond promptly when they realize the importance of the work and that the community will back the society's tuberculosis control program 100 per cent.

"It is particularly important that there be no lowering of health standards when all of us want to be able to devote our energy to constructive post-war tasks."

Bookmarks which bear holiday greetings and a reminder of the annual Christmas Seal sale in support of tuberculosis control have been distributed in libraries. The bookmarks are inserted in books borrowed but, unlike the books, need not be returned.

New Sound Movie At Salem Church

The Youth Fellowship is sponsoring the showing of the new sound film "The Book For the World of Tomorrow," produced by the American Bible Society, at 7 p. m. Sunday in Salem Evangelical church.

The picture, which represents a new departure in the making of movies with a distinctly religious message, was made possible through the cooperation of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. All people interested are invited to attend. There will be a brief worship service accompanying the presentation.

The film illustrates the important place of the Bible in our land and in many others and how through the devoted labors of many men it came to be the Book for the world of yesterday; how its rapid passage into the tongues of nine-tenths of mankind and its world wide distribution have made it the Book for the world of today; and how we whose heritage it is are challenged to make the Bible the Book for the world of tomorrow.

Among the interesting sequences are the first printing from moveable metal type in Europe by Gutenberg; how a translation into a foreign tongue is actually made;

EARLY PROGRAMS ASKED BY EDITOR
Pastors and others having charge of special Christmas events and programs to be printed on the Church Page of Friday, December 14, are reminded this copy must be in the hands of the church editor no later than Wednesday noon.

and the story of the Vulgate translation by St. Jerome, still an outstanding work of scholarship. Many fine portions of the picture and some of the musical background were contributed by Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer and the Radio Corporation of America with the consent of the American Federation of Musicians. The Gutenberg press used in the picture is an exact replica of the original in Mainz, Germany, and was loaned by the Cuneo Press of Chicago.

Turkeys Will Be Plentiful For Holidays

Harrisburg—Not only will there be plenty of Pennsylvania turkeys for Christmas but the supply is ample to provide for the rapidly developing family custom of buying another or several turkeys for use in the later winter months, the State Department of Agriculture reported today.

Turkey growers of the State—sensing the increasing "before and after holiday" demand created in pre-war years by hotels and restaurants in featuring the big birds on the menus from September through spring and even summer months—are prepared to meet consumer requests with the biggest turkey crop in the history of the state. Production this year totals 1,670,000 birds, 30 per cent higher than 1944 and the fourth consecutive year the Pennsylvania crop passed the million mark.

Many Keystone farmers are growing turkeys in numbers for the first time this year, with the result that the state ranks eighth in the nation and first east of the Mississippi river, in the number produced. California leads with

1. One filling of the magazine lasts several days in average weather—one filling per day is enough for coldest weather.
2. Burns more of the coal—only a fine ash remains. No muss—ash falls into removable container in dust-tight compartment.
3. Ashes need be removed in handy container only once every few days in normal weather. Produces far less ash than any other stove, because combustion is so complete.
4. It is only 47 1/2 inches high. Occupies little more than two feet of floor space.
5. Light it once and it will burn all winter without rekindling.
6. Burns graded sizes of anthracite, coke, or bituminous coal—(in bituminous, low volatile bituminous gives best results).
7. It is a circulating heater—not a radiant type—making it possible to keep all of the space it heats at comfortable temperature.
8. The only coal heater with automatic thermostat control—no dampers to watch. The famous Conservator 3-way Thermostatic Control means less attention.
9. Attractively finished in black porcelain enamel to assure long life. Easy to keep clean and shining. No stove polish needed.

Admiral Raeder, who maintained under questioning after his capture that he had no hand in Hitler's plotting and was merely a bluff old sea dog doing his duty to his country, was disclosed by his own records to have sold Hitler on his idea of invading Norway in October, 1939—five months before the invasion. He also arranged a meeting between Hitler and Quisling in December to polish up the fifth column plot that aided the invaders.
Quisling was executed as a war criminal last October after a trial in Oslo.
Rosenberg, head of the Nazi party's foreign section, was disclosed to have groomed Quisling for his fifth column role months ahead of the invasion. Quisling agents were sent to Germany for training and then returned to Norway to open the gates to the Germans.

Neighbors said the family had just returned from an auto trip and entered their small frame home when suddenly the rear of the house completely disintegrated, as if a gigantic hand had moved it away.
Paul Null, who said he was listening to a radio and watching from a next-door window, declared flames shot 50 to 60 feet from the dwelling. He then saw Caber, he said, lying in burning grass behind the home, and wrapped him in a carpet to quell the flames.
Caber pleaded to return indoors and rescue his children, Null continues, but the house was so quickly engulfed in flames even firemen could not enter.
The nearby houses were damaged by the fire.
In periods of consciousness before his death Caber told hospital authorities he had carried a case of pellet powder, which contains 110 sticks of explosive, into the house. Miners use about three of the sticks to blast loose 10 tons of coal.
Caber said that while Mrs. Caber took their children upstairs to bed, he started a fire in the kitchen coal stove, then turned to adjust a flickering kerosene lamp. A spark from the stove evidently ignited the powder.

At a National Shipbuilding Conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., a CIO Union leader proposed a 17½ cents an hour wage boost "across the board" and a 30 per cent weekly salary hike upon reduction of hours for the nation's shipyard workers. John Green, Camden, N. J., president of the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, said the 30 per cent hike was needed so that the workers' net pay would equal the amount received for a 48-hour week.

In New York, the American Airlines announced granting pay increases averaging 10.7 per cent to its more than 3,000 mechanics throughout the country. The company also said the 40-hour work week would become effective Jan. 1, night workers would get extra pay and each worker would be given six holidays with pay each year. The wage hikes became effective today.

Conferences were to be resumed in Cleveland today in an effort to negotiate settlement of a strike of about 4,000 AFL Greyhound bus workers, who have been off the job since Nov. 1, in a wage dispute.

What Endocrine can do to bless you with a younger looking face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! Then harken to this: Scientific research has proved that ENDOCREME can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOL®. This ACTIVOL® is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive." What bigger value can any woman young or old ask for her cosmetic dollars? The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

DRAGON CAGERS INVAD JAMESTOWN HIGH TONITE

"Big Five" In Crucial Test Against Red and Green; Both Unbeaten; Game Time 8:30

Warren's Basketball Dragons meet their first crucial test of the current 22-game campaign tonight when they stack up against Jamestown High School's Red and Green cagers tonight at 8:30 on the opponent's home hardwood. Neither team has been beaten. Jamestown holding an inaugural 40-30 victory over Corry and the locals holding respective 54-14 and 58-28 wins over Youngsville and St. Mary's.

The "Big Five" meets the firing line of a team which twice drubbed their predecessors last season, and Mentor Massa's outfit will have to depend upon more than their height to knock Roland Tait's proteges out of the affair tonight.

The crew of six-footers received some vital experience Wednesday night when they scrimmaged against a combination of one-time cage greats of the local high school and other local stars. Warfield Check, just having arrived home on leave from the navy, "Elmo" Wolfe, Ray Ritchie, Jim Urbanski, Bill Lundahl, Bud Matthews, Willard Zerbe, all ex-Dragons stars, Ted Kaminski and Captain Grunzweig, City League standouts, gave the local tall men a tip-top battle when they met in the scrimmage session.

Massa drilled his boys yesterday afternoon on passing routines and plays. The coach said this morning that he will again depend upon the strong zone defense to halt Jamestown's scoring, and he also asserted that he would probably send the same "Big Five" into action tonight to start.

Jamestown was undoubtedly rely upon the man-for-man defense in an attempt to stop the high-scoring local outfit. The Tartans got off to a slow start at Jamestown in their opener, and they trailed the Beavers at halftime. 21-18. They pulled through in the last half to outpoint their opponents and gain a win. Corry went astray at the charity lane in the game, making good on only 6 out of 22 tries.

The big gun in Jamestown's offense is forward Bob Lind, who looped 11 points through the hoop against Corry. One handicap which the Red and Green will face tonight is a partial lack of height and the illness of several substitutions.

Dragon coach J. A. Massa will use his regulars in the affair, mostly all six-footers but all lettermen. Al Babcock and Dick Harris will open at the forward post, towering Jack Eaton at center, and Ray Reed and Neil Simmons at guards. Jim Scalse and Tony Vesco will also see some action.

The 8:30 main attraction will be preceded by a 7:30 go-between the two schools' second squads.

S-W Quint To Vie Saturday On Y Court

The Struthers Wells basketballers continue their Saturday night engagements here tomorrow when they play host to the Jamestown Jessup-Turner Athletic Club in an 8:30 encounter on the YM hardwood. The game will be preceded by a preliminary between two local teams at 7:30.

Manager "Rabbit" Swanson, in announcing the game, asserted that he expected the Jamestowners to give the local City League leaders a "run for their money." Jessup-Turner has a win and a loss to its credit in the Jamestown city circuit.

The Warren lineup will pit Ted Kaminski and Bob Chase at the forward posts, Ray Ritchie at center, and Willard Zerbe and "Elmo" Wolfe at the guards.

Jamestown will present a well-rounded starting five of varied known cage standouts. Jessup-Turner's first five is composed entirely of returned war veterans, Wayne Barr and Len Johnson will hold down at forwards, Bill Hartman at center, and Billy Norton and Woody Bradish at guards. Also included in the opponents' lineup will be Brad Bishop, Falconer High School mentor.

Penn Bottle Wallops Times-Mirror and Youngsville Edges Blomquists After Big Thriller

Two of the bottom teams in the City cage loop made the ingredients for one of the most exciting ball games played on the local hardwood this season when they battled through two overtime periods and a sudden death frame to thrill completely some 100 fans.

A greatly revised Blomquist five and the Youngsville Skating Rink went neck-and-neck for the full four quarters, which ended in a 21-21 draw, then went through one three-minute overtime session scoreless. Both teams tallied two points apiece in the second overtime, and Youngsville finally emerged the victor when Dunkle broke the "sudden death" session with a two-point shot.

In the preliminary, the Sheffield Penn Bottles routed the Times-Mirror aggregation, 55-25, with Kunselman leading the winners with 15 points and Mike Otto following with 12. For the newspaper boys, Ken Bartsch again was high man with a total of 13. The win for the Bottlers sent them into a first-place deadlock with Struthers Wells, but the loss put the Times into a last place tie with winless Blomquists.

Youngsville and Blomquists went through a literal "blood and guts" battle in an attempt to give either team its first win, and the Skating Rink came through after a long, tedious battle, 25-23.

The score between these two aces was tied almost at every point during the game, and Blomquists got a "shot in the arm" with the addition of three-ex-high school cagers, Al Buerkle, Bud Matthews, and Nick Wendelboe.

Next week's activity pits Penn Bottle against Blomquists and Youngsville against Youngsville on Monday; and on Thursday, Times-Mirror hits tough Struthers and O'Connors battle Bakers.

'Slow-Up' Rule In H. S. Game Is Reversed
Harrisburg, Dec. 7. — (P) — A "slow-up" basketball rule calling for a five-second delay in getting the ball into action after a field goal or a successful foul try was out of the scholastic rule book today.

The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association's Board of Control announced it eliminated the rule passed earlier this season for the purpose of "slowing the game for high school boys."

In its place, PIAA executive secretary Edmund Wicht said member schools, officials and coaches will follow this rule: "After a goal from the field or a successful foul try following a personal foul, the official shall secure possession and control of the ball, and he shall hand it out-of-bounds at the end of the court to any opponent of the team credited with the score."

The arbitrary five-second delay was found ineffective in several demonstration games, Wicht said. Reports from coaches and officials were also critical of the rule.

The board of control's basketball committee then recommended that the silent count feature of the rule be eliminated "because it was found in actual practice that the securing possession and control of the ball by the official was sufficient in itself to slow the game."

DDT, the new death dealing insecticide, will be mixed into paints, varnishes, soap flakes, furniture and floor oils, fabric treating preparations, crop and livestock sprays.

Pro Cage Team?

It's too bad that Warren once again can't have a professional basketball team. The number of returning servicemen, along with numerous other local players, could certainly put a fast, clever and rangy ball club on any court, and they could be tops.

There have always been several arguments in Warren when still serving in the armed forces; Warfield Check, home on leave from the navy; Art McKeehan, also serving in the armed forces; Ted Kaminsky, an army guard stationed at Bull Hill; and Captain Grunzweig, an ex-Niagara University star stationed at the local recruiting office, could make almost any ball club suffer.

Here and There: Franklin has five returning lettermen on its 1945-6 cage edition. . . . The Warren Dragons and their coach will definitely see the double-header at Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium Saturday night which pits Westminster against this year. It will probably be necessary to turn away hundreds of fans when top-notch teams like Bradford and Erie Tech come here to face the Dragons' "Big Five." The people are interested, yes, and they come forth in full force to see the game. They like it, and then some people say, "It isn't so."

If it's a question of talent, then, Mister, you ought to hide in a corner for your lack of eyesight. Fellows like "Elmo" Wolfe, who played for the high school here, Edinboro State Teachers' College, and then was named to the all-state college team; "Tink" Wolfe, still serving in the armed forces; Warfield Check, home on leave from the navy; Art McKeehan, also serving in the armed forces; Ted Kaminsky, an army guard stationed at Bull Hill; and Captain Grunzweig, an ex-Niagara University star stationed at the local recruiting office, could make almost any ball club suffer.

Over-Optimistic — Once again we caution local cage fans not to become too over-optimistic as to the outcome of the Dragon basketball squad. We grant you that there are heaps of possibilities, but things have to come one at a time. The Dragons have the height, and gradually they are (Turn to Page Eleven)

Lockard trying to forget December 7

Williamsport, Dec. 7—(A)—Joseph L. Lockard, who four years ago today was the first to warn of the impending attack on Pearl Harbor, is hoping up for an insurance examination and trying to forget what happened on Dec. 7, 1941.

"I have nothing to celebrate," he said in the insurance office where he has been employed since his separation from the army as a first lieutenant last October.

"We should keep it a day of infamy for Japanese and not make it one for a few Americans," he stated in commenting on the current congressional investigation into the disaster.

Lockard, 24, was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for his alertness.

Business index in district climbing

Pittsburgh, Dec. 7—(A)—Pittsburgh district business set a record high last week, the University of Pittsburgh bureau of business said today.

The bureau's index climbed from 174.8 to 187.7 per cent of the 1925-39 average, surpassing the wartime high of March 31, 1945, by more than two points.

Gains in industrial production and freight shipments accounted for most of the increase. Dollar sales in 11 Pittsburgh department stores for the week ended Dec. 1 were 15 per cent ahead of the same weeks last year.

Those brutalities "were not sporadic incidents, but were often methodically supervised by Japanese officers and non-commissioned officers," Maj. Gen. Russell B. Reynolds, president of the commission, stated as he read the verdict.

Yamashita thus became the first top war criminal of the Pacific to be convicted and sentenced.

Before hearing the verdict, the stocky defendant stood, visibly nervous, while an interpreter read this statement to the court:

"I wish to stand here today with a clear conscience and swear to God I am innocent of these charges. I wish to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the United States officers of the defense, brilliant and upright of officers. I want to thank the commission for a fair trial."

As the interpreter spoke, Yamashita nervously removed his wrist watch, wound it fumblingly.

When the commission was ready to pronounce sentence, the three-star general was led before the bench with his chief counsel, Col. Harry E. Clarke, of Altoona, Pa.

Yamashita's shoulders sagged as he heard the sentence, but he straightened quickly and made a curt bow to the commission.

He was quickly led by military police from the court room back to his cell in old Bilibid prison.

The entire court procedure required less than 15 minutes.

In Tokyo a few hours before the verdict was read, the general's wife said she had declined suggestions from friends to appeal to Mrs. Douglas MacArthur for "help and justice for my husband."

"The method of justice on the American side is admirably fair," she was quoted by the newspaper Mainichi. "I am pleased with it. I thought my husband should be put on trial naturally because he took command for a long time in the front."

Yamashita, who already has lost an appeal to the Philippines supreme court to take jurisdiction of his case and free him from the military trial, still has an appeal to the United States supreme court pending and at least three additional appeals to make.

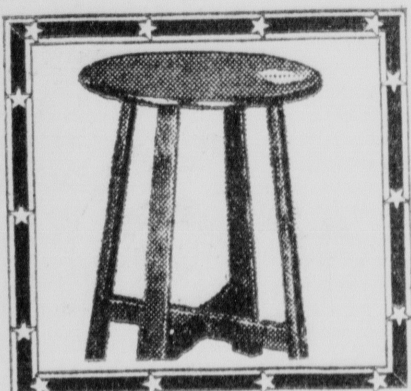

Defense counsel has indicated it will take full advantage of every possibility because the Yamashita case is precedent-setting in international laws. Yamashita was the first Pacific war leader ever to be tried for war crimes.

Yamashita's first appeal will be made to Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, commander of army forces in the western Pacific. If Styer upholds the commission, he may appeal to General MacArthur, as

YAMASHITA SENTENCED TO HANG FOR CONDONING ATROCITIES

PROSECUTOR IN TOKYO TO START TRIALS

Warlord Hideki Tojo and Pearl Harbor Cabinet Lead Parade of Defendants

ORDER MORE ARRESTS

By MURLIN SPENCER
Tokyo, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Chief prosecutor Jos. B. Keenan announced today that the first war crimes trials in Japan tentatively were scheduled for January—with warlord Hideki Tojo and his Pearl Harbor cabinet leading the parade of defendants.

"The accused will be presumed innocent until proved guilty," Keenan, General MacArthur's special staff counsel, told a news conference. But he added that:

"Japanese war criminals must be punished and humiliated so that they will go down in history as ordinary felons of the lowest type."

He declined comment on the Allied attitude toward Emperor Hirohito.

The death penalty will be asked at the trials, he indicated.

He said he found President Truman and General MacArthur to be in accord on questions affecting trial procedure and on the requirement that trials be concluded as rapidly as possible.

Like their German counterparts, Japanese war crimes suspects will be tried in groups. An international court seems likely, since other interested powers have been asked to nominate members. None has complied thus far, Keenan reported.

On top of General MacArthur's order for the arrest of Keenichi Kido, the arrival of Keenichi Kido in Japan brought full realization to the Japanese that the Allies mean business in rooting out aggressors. The order against Kido reached as close to the throne as MacArthur could get without arresting Emperor Hirohito himself.

Even before Nippon could recover from the shock of the MacArthur order for the arrest of Kido, who was lord keeper of the privy seal and Hirohito's closest adviser, Prince Fumimaro Koyama and seven others, there came two more explosive developments:

1. Edwin W. Pauley, U. S. reparations commissioner, recommended confiscation of all Japanese assets abroad, including those of the emperor; remove from the country of the industrial potentials of the Zaibatsu (family monopoly); and huge slashes in shipbuilding.

Hauser Is Facing Cross Examination

Uniontown, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Fredrick E. Hauser, 18-year-old confessed slayer of Anna Dreyer, Fayette City's 17-year-old "Sunshine girl," today faced cross-examination by District Attorney H. Vance Coffman.

Hauser entered a general plea of guilty to a charge of murder on Tuesday but his trial was continued so that Judge W. Russell Carr might determine the degree of guilt.

The young ex-sailor first told his story under the questioning yesterday of Defense Attorney Paul K. McCormick. Most of his testimony was given earlier, in a statement which officers had entered in the record.

His testimony, however, differed on one point: He said his mind went blank during the time Miss Dreyer was killed and that he could not tell how it happened.

The red-headed ex-sailor said his mind had been similarly affected at other times since October, 1944, when he was blown from an LST during a landing operation at Leyte and was unconscious for five days.

Vast Sea and Air Armada In Search for Missing Bombers

Miami, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—A vast sea and air armada was ordered today to scan 100,000 square miles of the Atlantic in a "last chance" effort to rescue 27 men who disappeared with a formation of five torpedo bombers and a missing search plane.

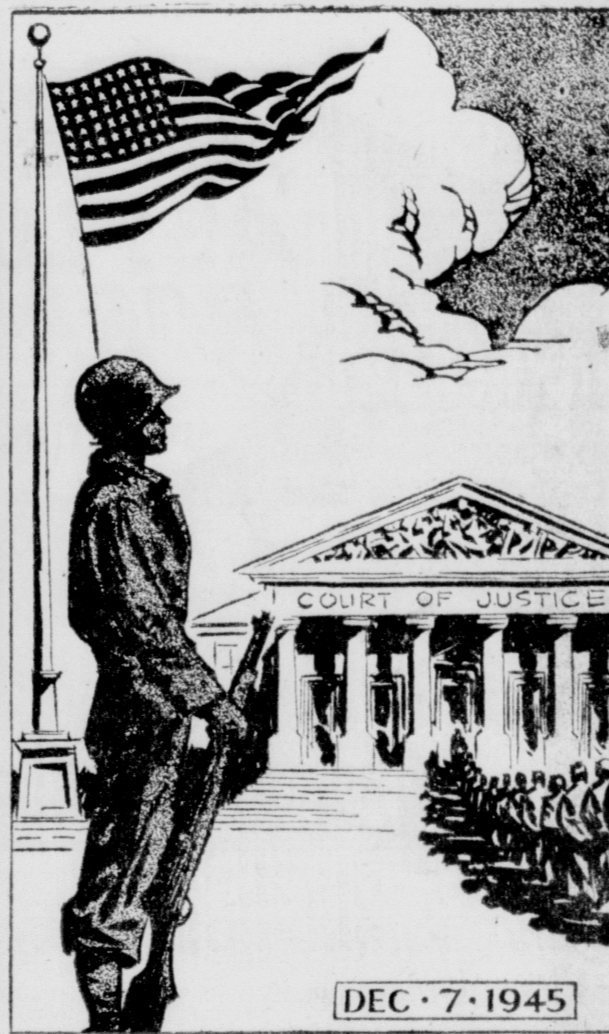

The navy alone ordered 243 planes into the air, while 18 surface craft—including the baby flattop U.S.S. Solomons—numerous merchant ships and other searchers made it probably the biggest rescue effort of peace-time.

Two clues seemed sufficiently definite to remove some of the mystery that cloaked the disappearance of the entire formation of bombers, carrying 14 men, and the big Martin rescue craft that joined them in the Atlantic's limbo

Two Victims of "Day Of Infamy" Are Back

Philadelphia, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Exactly four years after the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor two victims of that "day of infamy"—the battleships California and Tennessee—today were back in United States waters.

The 24-year-old California was sunk and the Tennessee suffered two bomb hits in the Pearl Harbor raid but both saw much action before the war's end.

Both vessels, each carrying more than 2,000 men and officers, will drop anchor at the Philadelphia naval base—the climax of a 15,000-mile journey from Tokyo Bay.

Five Dead In Explosion In Clearfield Co.

Clearfield, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Five persons perished in an explosion of pellet powder which last night destroyed the home of Clarence Caber, in the mining community of Ramey, 25 miles south of here.

The dead were Caber, 28, a miner who succumbed in Phillipsburg State Hospital early today of burns; his wife, Rose, 26, and their children, Delores, 7, Eugene, 6.

Ceiling Prices Of Newsprint Hiked

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The OPA has announced an increase of $6 a ton in newsprint ceiling prices.

While the increase is effective December 11, OPA said the industry generally would not apply it until January 1, since most newsprint is sold on a yearly contract basis, with quarterly adjustments. The agency said that while the purpose of the increase is to assure prices that are "generally fair and equitable," it also "should operate to check further decreases in United States newsprint production, which has been gradually declining for some years."

The higher prices apply to all newsprint sold in this country, including imports, which represent three-fourths of total consumption. Canada is the principal source of imports.

Edinboro Man Disappears In Mysterious Manner In Warren

Local police are confronted with a mystery in the disappearance of John Mukina, of Edinboro, who was last seen sitting in a chair in the Carver House. Mukina, 26 years of age, had been discharged from the U. S. Army only a month ago and came to Warren with his brother, George Mukina, and Glenn Woods on a hunting expedition. He was in fine health and was known to have a large sum of money on his person.

Wednesday morning at an early hour the three drove to Warren to secure a sandwich and stopped at the Richie Diner. Woods and George Mukina entered the diner and left John Mukina asleep in the automobile. When the two men came out of the diner Mukina had awakened and left the car. His coat and cap were in the machine.

Search was made around the town by the two men and they learned that at 7:30 he had been asleep in a chair at the Carver Hotel. When he left or where he went after leaving is still a mystery.

Woods and George Mukina, thinking that perhaps the man had returned to his home at Edinboro, drove to their home there. However, there was no sign of the man nor had he communicated with any of the family.

The two men returned to Warren this morning and made a report to the police and are assisting in a search under way.

Proposed Plan For Pullman Sale Opposed

Philadelphia, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Sale of the nation's sleeping car business by Pullman, Inc., to a combine of 43 railroads is opposed by the department of justice on grounds it "would merely substitute a new monopoly for the one now condemned by court."

The government, in a 27-page brief filed in federal court here, also claims three other bidders for the Pullman sleeping equipment may not be suitable purchasers. Holmes Baldridge, special assistant to Attorney General Thomas Clark, in filing the brief yesterday indicated the United States would fight sale of Pullman's fleet of 7,000 cars and servicing equipment to the railroads for $75,000,000.

Baldridge said a special expediting court Nov. 13 it wished per-

Witnesses Awaited By Court Martial

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The court martial of Navy Capt. Charles B. McVay III, marked time today, awaiting the arrival of additional witnesses to tell how his ship, the cruiser Indianapolis, sank in Philippine waters last July 30.

The seven-man trial board scheduled a session today, but Rear Admiral Wilder D. Baker, court president, said no testimony would be heard.

The prosecution, which has devoted four days to its presentation of charges that McVay failed to order a zigzag course and "to issue timely orders" to abandon ship, has no additional witnesses on hand, Baker said at the conclusion of yesterday's session.

Approximately 20 more have been called and are en route to Washington, he added.

A dozen of the 316 survivors of the sinking—out of a complement of 1,196—gave their accounts yesterday of the two explosions which rocked the vessel and the sinking in 10 to 15 minutes later.

Farrell Folk Take Tax Raise To Save Jobs

Farrell, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The 14,000 residents of Farrell didn't want to live in a ghost town—so they raised their taxes to provide 4,000 more jobs.

They approved a big hike in per cent of business properties, 20 per cent on residential sites—in order to help a local steel corporation reopen mills and bring the 4,000 jobs back.

They authorized city council to forgive the company—Sharon Steel Corp.—$100,000 in taxes annually for a period of one to five years until the mills make good. Then, they said, taxes will be lowered again.

Erie Fire Loss Is Estimated $400,000

Erie, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Revising upwards his estimate of damage in the fire which swept the Lyons Transportation Company warehouse and office here yesterday, assistant Fire Chief Edward P. Flanagan placed the loss at $400,000.

The estimate was doubled when the quantities of freight destroyed by fire in the warehouse were disclosed. They included 500 automobile tires, three tons of hard-to-get butter, three tons of meat, 35 new refrigerators, 15 new stoves, one ton of Christmas candy, seven tractors and four truck bodies.

The freight was scheduled for shipment to such communities as Titusville, Union City, Oil City and Jamestown, N. Y.

Flanagan said the fire started when welding sparks ignited grease in a garage. Oil drums exploded, spreading the flames rapidly, but 20 employees at work escaped injury.

Rationing Was Just About To Get Tougher

By ARTHUR EDSON
Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—So you thought rationing was tough, eh?

Relax, brothers and sisters. It could have been worse.

OPA had made plans to ration clothing, soap, milk, automobile batteries and coal. It even had peeked at the possibility of rationing gas and electricity, a former OPA official, Pat French, disclosed today in an interview.

French said one plan called for A, B and C milk rationing cards. One for adults; one for growing children and one for babies, man-to-toe and people on special diets.

Another now-it-can-be-told bit: Remember those unused stamps in the back of ration book III? The ones with pictures of tanks, guns and ships?

OPA figured clothes rationing was so likely it had better toss in some spare stamps, just in case.

BRITISH FLAGS ON NAZI SHIPS FOR INVASION

Details of Speedy Fifth Column Conquest of Norway and Denmark Are Disclosed

ON ORDER OF DOENITZ

BULLETIN
Nuremberg, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Hitler's armies were poised for the invasion of the low countries and France Nov. 7, 1939, but the attack was postponed week by week for six months because of bad weather, official German records disclosed at the war crimes trial here today. While the rest of the world spoke sarcastically of a "phony war," the German military machine was ready and "waiting only for favorable weather," according to records introduced before the international military tribunal. British prosecutors turned most of their evidence against the German military and naval leaders among the 20 top-ranking Hitlerites accused of war crimes, pointing out their part in plans for the crushing invasion while Hitler deceitfully told Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg that he had no plans to attack them.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuremberg, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The German navy's warships and camouflaged troop transports carried British flags and signals to disguise the speedy fifth column conquest of Norway and Denmark, it was revealed today by the war crimes trial of 20 of Hitler's lieutenants.

Read into evidence before the international military tribunal was the order of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander in chief of the German navy, to use British flags on German ships which slipped into Scandinavian ports on the eve of invasion.

The detailed story of treachery and intrigue leading to the downfall of Germany's little neighbors in April, 1940, disclosed that the plot to use the fifth column of Vidkun Quisling in obtaining Scandinavian U-boat bases was engineered largely by Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and Alfred Rosenberg, two of the accused nazis on trial.

Official German naval orders introduced as evidence included instructions that "the disguise as British craft must be kept as long as possible." The government denied repeatedly in 1940 that their vessels had flown British flags.

All challenges were to be answered with the names of British warships and arrangements were made to illuminate British war flags on the masts of the German vessels, the order disclosed.

Warnings Would Have Been Confusing Marshall States

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators today that Admiral Harold R. Stark thought warnings to Pacific commanders on Dec. 7, 1941, would "only confuse them."

So Stark, then chief of naval operations, at first opposed sending such warnings after it became clear that trouble was brewing for the United States that day.

Marshall told the senate-house committee investigating the attack, Marshall, wartime army chief of staff, testified he called Stark back to the White House, telephone, however, and insisted on sending the messages. Then the admiral acceded, Marshall said, and asked that the army warnings be amended so that naval officers at Pacific outposts would be advised.

A secret meeting of the committee delayed for half an hour resumption of General Marshall's story.

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.), a member of the senate-house group investigating the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, told reporters that the executive session dealt with the admission of certain evidence. He said it was decided the evidence should be entered in its entirety.

He did not elaborate but there was one report that the evidence under consideration was correspondence between Marshall and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 1944 Republican nominee for president.

It previously has been reported that Dewey withheld from publication, at Marshall's request, information showing the United States was decoding secret Japanese messages.

Senator George (D-Ga.) told reporters that General Marshall was eager to get away to his new job as President Truman's special envoy in China.

"He has his plane in a standby condition," said George, "but I don't think he'll get away today."

Gen. Marshall's task, on his second day of testimony, was cut out for him last August.

Effort To Settle Dispute In G. M. Plants Highlights the Country's Strike Picture

Efforts to settle the nation's major labor dispute, the walkout of some 200,000 employees at General Motors plants, highlighted the country's strike picture today.

An offer of a 10 per cent wage increase to the strikers came at yesterday's initial conference since the start of the walkout last November 21 between company and CIO United Auto Workers leaders.

It was promptly rejected by the union, but another meeting was arranged today to continue wage negotiations.

Despite the union's rejection of the 13½ cents an hour increase as against the union's demand for a 30 per cent boost, there remained an air of optimism in Detroit that some avenue of approach to settlement of the wage dispute might be found.

At the same time, General Motors offered a 13½ cents an hour hike to 25,000 CIO United Electrical Workers who are demanding a $2 a day boost. The electrical workers, who are planning a strike vote Dec. 13 with about 245,000 employees in General Electric and Westinghouse plants, voted on the offer but results were not immediately announced.

GM's offer was termed by H. W. Anderson, company vice president, as a "reinstatement of the pre-strike offer of approximately 10 per cent," which he said would boost wages of GM workers to 30 per cent above the January, 1941, level.

UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther, however, estimated it would raise the average rate of $1.15 an hour by 11½ per cent and he described it as "a better offer than the one made prior to the strike."

The General Motors walkout involved approximately one half of the total idle throughout the country because of labor disputes.

Also in Detroit, two federal conciliators arranged conferences with UAW-CIO and Chrysler Corporation officials. Contract negotiations broke down earlier and although strike action has been approved it is being withheld pending further developments in the GM walkout. The company union contract, covering some 45,000 employees, expired Dec. 4.

Two More Escape From Bellefonte

Bellefonte, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Escape of two more convicts from Rockview prison farm, the ninth and tenth to flee in two months, left prison officials puzzled today.

"We can't understand it," said Deputy Warden C. C. Rhoads of the break last night which saw Ray Keener, 27, Mercer county, and Manley F. Parks, Bradford county elude two guards during milking chores at two barns outside the stockade.

The trusty-prisoners were part of a group of 11 assigned to milk a herd of cattle, Rhoads said. While going to their places inside the barns, they slipped out a back door. Their departure was noticed about 10 minutes later.

Thirty-five special officers, together with state and local police, scoured the mountainous area for the two young prisoners. Keener was serving two to four years for sodomy and Parks, two to 10 years for robbery and assault and battery.

ALL-OUT FIGHT LOOMS OVER TOLL BRIDGES

Harrisburg, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The commonwealth pledged an all-out fight today in opposing litigation aimed at halting its $7,000,000 program to buy and free toll highways owned toll highways in Pennsylvania.

The People's Bridge Company, Harrisburg, owner of the Walnut street toll bridge, filed suit to restrain Dauphin county court to restrain the state from purchasing the Sunbury bridge until it is ascertained whether $7,000,000 is enough to buy all of them.

"I will fight this action with all the vigor and power I possess," said Highways Secretary John U. Shroyer, named a defendant with Auditor general G. Harold Wagner and State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black.

Alias Santa Claus this morning gave out with a smile. It was not one of those broad smiles for which the old fellow is noted but rather a sort of twitching at the corners of the mouth. In the morning mail he got two nice checks for $5 each. His eyes twinkled and if you would really like to hear him let out a loud guffaw hustle in some checks and cash donations. Nothing makes the old boy feel so good as liberal gifts to his fund.

Both the check and crisp $5 bill received this morning were from folks who just didn't let their right hand pocket know what the left hand pocket is doing and they wanted no publicity. Seems that a lot of folks do not care for publicity when they do good. Nice, isn't it?

And just to be gossipy about this Alias Santa Claus Fund let the folks who do the buying make a suggestion as to how the Christmas gifts for the needy kiddies can be enlarged. Get the gifts in while stocks are good so that more advantageous buying can be done. It's a big job getting the things needed and with the stores selling out stocks at a gallop...

FORMER JAP COMMANDER IS CONVICTED

First Top War Criminal of Pacific To Be Found Guilty and Sentenced To Die

DENIES BRUTALITIES

By DEAN SCHEDLER

Manila, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A general U. S. military commission on this Pearl Harbor anniversary decreed death by hanging for Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita.

Later—still protesting that "my conscience is clear"—the conqueror of Singapore and former Japanese commander in the Philippines was returned to new Bilibid prison. There he will await review of the court's findings.

There was no indication when the sentence might be carried out.

Manila, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita was "the perfect client," Col. Harry Clarke, chief defense counsel, said today.

"That's one verdict I didn't expect," Clarke admitted. He said he was the only member of the defense staff who had anticipated acquittal.

The former Japanese commander, who said "I will leave all decisions to my counsel," rewarded each of the attorneys. He gave Clarke, who is from Altoona, Pa., a silver watch, his ribbons, and the field tea set which accompanied him through the Singapore and Philippine campaigns.

Yamashita has an appeal on jurisdiction grounds pending with the U. S. Supreme Court. He also can appeal the military commission's decision to Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, commander of army forces in the Western Pacific; to General MacArthur, Allied commander in the Pacific; and to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The beribboned general listened stony-faced as the court held him responsible for permitting "a series of atrocities and high crimes by Japanese armed forces" under his command in the Philippines.

Major Fight Is Expected Over British Loan

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The administration marshaled its arguments today behind a $4,400,000,000 credit offer to Britain, convinced that any congressional change would imperil hopes for Anglo-American trade cooperation.

The two governments climaxed three months of diplomatic talks by announcing last night a broad economic agreement tied to financial help from this country.

That help under the agreement would come from a $3,750,000,000 cash loan and a $650,000,000 settlement for postwar lend-lease and war supplies. Both would be repaid at two per cent interest over a 50-year period beginning in 1951.

Only the outright loan needs congressional approval, but every sign pointed to a bitter struggle. Harsh words heard from both sides in the house even before the credit agreement was officially announced.

Asking anonymity, state department and treasury officials who participated in the talks here said today they are convinced that any major change in the loan terms would force Britain to reject the loan altogether and pursue her own economic course within a restricted bloc of countries.

As a part of the credit agreement, Britain agreed to cooperate with this country toward world-wide trade expansion by lowering such barriers as tariffs and cartels.

Sport Boosters Plan Group To Help Rouse Local Interest

Last evening at the Elks Club a group of Warren men interested in giving Warren a better outlook on sports of all kinds gathered to discuss the situation. Warren sports have been allowed to drop to a low ebb over the past few years and the group last evening planned to give the situation a "shot in the arm."

The aim of the group will be to aid in the arousing of local interest in baseball, basketball, football and all other sports. An effort will be made through various forms of publicity, etc., to make Warren sport minded. No particular sport will be boosted, but all sports will be aided. A membership committee composed of P. Fanaritis, D. Kirberger, R. H. Elliott, H. Sedon, John Berdine, V. Radspinner, G. Ostergard, S. Blackman, Joe Gardner, C. Schindler and C. Eggleston was appointed to swell the list of men and it is expected that by next Wednesday evening when a second meeting will be held at the YMCA that 250 men will be present.

Every red-blooded man in town who enjoys sports of various kinds is urged to put down in his daily calendar that he has a date at the meeting.

During the past few days reports have been current that Bing Crosby is in this section, a member of a hunting party. The dopesters had him registered at the Carver House last week under an assumed name but inquiry at the hotel failed to bring Bing to light. Moderate Improvements Are Made at the State Hospital

The Warren State Hospital during the past few months has made a number of moderate improvements but due to the war emergency the outlined program could not be followed out. However when essential materials are released a renovation and replacement program will be instituted.

Plans for the important work have been made by Meyers and Johnson, an Erie firm of Architects and the work underway is being done by Sessinghaus and Ostergaard, Inc., Contractors of Erie.

During the past weeks much has been done toward correcting fire hazards at the big institution by installing new concrete and terrazzo first floors in the Infirmary building and the four Annexes. The old floors in the infirmary have been replaced with concrete slabs and terrazzo finish.

The contractors are still at work on the erection of a one story stone addition to the old laundry building. This when completed will provide adequate space for the canning facilities which have been set up on the first floor of that building. The canning project at the State Hospital gives work to about 120 men and women patients preparing and processing of vegetables and fruits. These are all raised on the farm of the Hospital and it is shown in the projected improvements for the hospital that $60,000 in additional farm lands are needed.

This year in the face of the shortage of farm labor the Hospital Farms have produced in a most pleasing manner and the canning season shows a record pack of 123,520 quarts of fruits and vegetables. As this is all used in the dining rooms of the Hospital it results in a great saving in the operation of the institution.

The contract work under has involved considerable amount of work by the regular employees of the Hospital in moving and changing piping to suit the new construction, and the agreement has necessitated the expenditure of $77,090.

The Warren Institution is one of the model Hospitals of the state and Superintendent Robert H. Israel, M. D., is to be congratulated on the operation of the big institution so successfully during the war emergency.

Outing Club Entertainment Promises Fun

More and more are finding out the ability of the musicians at the club to present good music for dancing and the orchestra has just secured a large number of new and popular melodies that will be played at the club for the first time.

LEST WE FORGET

We all remember that fateful Sunday four years ago today.

It started out as any normal Sunday, and then the news broke that Jap planes were bombing Pearl Harbor. It was hard to believe and as late as Sunday night still seemed unreal. But by Monday morning sober reflection made us realize there was a war to fight—a war that caught us unprepared but one we would finish.

Who can ever forget those early, frantic days? Sons, husbands, fathers left home for training camps and then across to win a war for us. We asked them to do a job and they did it so thoroughly and quickly that the end came far ahead of schedule. But in our happiness that it's over, we are in danger of forgetting a promise we made ourselves. As each boy left, we asked for his safe return and in our hearts promised to bring him back again.

The fighting war is over but our promise is not fulfilled. Not until every American soldier is home, not until every wounded man is restored to health, not until every veteran has a place in civilian life will our promise be kept.

Before us today is an opportunity to pay part of our obligation to those brave men to whom we owe so much. By the purchase of Victory Bonds we lend the money needed to do all those things which gratitude and humanity require. It is our duty, our responsibility, and our privilege to buy Victory Bonds. That we greatly benefit ourselves through this safest of all investments should receive only secondary consideration from patriotic Warren citizens.

The Victory Loan Drive will soon be over but the good that will come from our present Victory Bond purchases will last through the years to come.

ARCH SEES A MORAL

Arch Bristow, who right now is writing the best column he has ever produced for the Erie Dispatch-Herald, wrote a real editorial the other evening that fits into the plan Warren is endeavoring to promote. The fact that Warren county can be made homelike for visitors and that friendships enduring and strong can grow out of hunting parties visiting this county.

Arch says:

By the time this deer season is over, hunters will have paid Warren County farmers a total of several thousand dollars in board bills. This little harvest from the hunting season isn't a bad thing for the farmers. They can use it, even if eggs are 68 cents a dozen. The Sportsman's League, and Warren's Chamber of Commerce have done a fine job getting boarding places for hunters. All hotels are full, and there are not half enough hunting camps. Some city fellows are making their first acquaintance with an old fashioned feather bed. And do they ever love that soft warmth on cold nights, after a long day on a chilly deer crossing!

But something is happening that no one thought of. From the hunters' viewpoint it is a wonderful thing. The hunter and farmer are fraternizing. Around the big wood stove these chill December nights the farmer and his family gather with their boarder-hunters. If there are young hunters, you may depend upon it, the farmer's pretty daughter is there, blushing red as the apples her Dad brings up from the cellar in a huge bowl. Stories are told. The farmer himself has done a little hunting. And, before bed-time has ticked around on the old hall clock, farmer and hunter have gotten pretty well acquainted. There is a trading of viewpoints, and a new understanding.

Ten o'clock! Gettin' a little late for folks who light the lantern for morning milking at 5 a. m. But friendships have now grown so warm the farmer is prompted to bring out his best plum brandy, or "skip-along," a homemade brandy born of the red wild plum. It's a warming drink. It seems to go to the heart rather than to the head. The farmer's wife has made ready the three oil lamps the men will take upstairs to their rooms. She has trimmed the wicks, polished the glass chimneys till they gleam, lighted the lamps and turned them low. But still the farmer and his boarders, sipping their wild plum brandy, swap stories, and become better and better friends. The hunters invite the farmer and his wife, not forgetting the red checked daughter, to visit them in town. Very often he accepts the invitation. And a lasting friendship has begun.

Nothing better could happen to the hunter than to build up a friendship with the man around whose land he hunts. It will do more for hunting than a lot of new laws. All the troubles in the world, or most of them, could be cured by men getting to know each other. These are great nights out on the farms.

Churchill's Attack Daring Challenge to Labor Regime

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP World Traveler

London—Former Prime Minister Churchill's all-out attack on the new labor government, as leader of the recently defeated conservative party, represents the sudden thought not unexpected opening of a conservative offensive to discredit the laborites (or socialists, as they frequently designate themselves) and regain public support.

Churchill made a daring challenge—daring because it is one from which there is no retreat—when he defined the issue as that of "the people versus the Socialists."

Would this be fair?

Can you imagine your milkman, grocer, barber or tailor charging you extra just because you were able to pay more than some people?

Of course you can't. And what a state of confusion everything would soon be in if people tried to operate that way.

Suppose the people GM workers trade with told them, "We know you make more than most industrial workers, so we're going to charge you more for everything!"

Yet this is exactly the principle UAW-GIO leaders are trying to establish in their wage demands on General Motors.

To be logical, union leaders should also say to a company that is losing money, "You're having a hard time making both ends meet, so we're suggesting a cut in wages."

Can you imagine any union leader ever making such an offer? Of course, you can't.

John Barleycorn Led Couple Into Hands of Warren Police

Old Bobby Burns, the Bard of Scotia knew full well what happens when folks "get fu and unco happy" but evidently a couple on upper East street had never had the experience of Robert. Last night when the fellow called on his gal friend he evidently took with him a vial of joy juice and during the evening both enjoyed a jigger or two.

As the hours grew late Old John Barleycorn took a hand in the party and the couple quarrelled. Angry tones rent the air where only billing and cooing had been heard before. Neighbors with a desire to sleep called the police and the cruiser car brought the pair to the police station. The fellow was booked as being intoxicated and the gal was questioned. She was well befogged with the libations of the evening and finally the police deposited her in the county jail. The fellow left a crisp $5 as bail and departed but his lady friend today had a little business with Justice Greenlund. Ah, me! the perfidy of man.

Two folks who drove their cars too fast for the conditions of the avenues of the town were also gathered in by the police. One of them was a woman.

STRONG OR WEAK BID
MAKES THIS HAND

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

At the recent Metropolitan Tournament in New York, in which Bertram Lebhar, Jr., Simon Rossant, Waldemar von Zedtwitz and Samuel Katz won the team championship, I was kibitzing the match when today's hand came up.

It is quite a sensation to pick up a hand as big as this one. Mrs. Helen Sobel, who was playing with Charles H. Goren of Philadelphia, opened the bidding with four no trump. Goren bid five no trump and Mrs. Sobel went to six no trump. The queen of clubs was opened. Mrs. Sobel won and led one spade. When both East and West followed, she spread the hand.

Samuel Katz and Waldemar von

Zedtwitz were using the above weak two-bid. Their only forcing two-bid is two clubs. The bidding shown is the way it happened at their table. Can you imagine opening with an artificial two-bid, and then find when the bidding gets back to you that the opponents have bid five of your suit?

Katz made a very nice bid when he went to five no trump. This certainly told his partner that he had a tremendous hand. Von Zedtwitz's bid of six spades guaranteed five spades and something on the outside. This was enough for Katz to go to seven spades, which also was a spread.

FOE'S PLAY RECOVERS BIDDER IN SACRIFICE

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Jay T. Feigus of Brooklyn found himself in a peculiar position when he got into a five-diamond contract on today's hand. He had bid five diamonds as a sacrifice against East's four-heart contract. When the dummy went down, he realized that in all probability four hearts could not have been made, so he decided he would have to make his five-diamond contract.

Feigus ruffed the second heart trick and led the king of diamonds. When East showed out, he cashed the queen of diamonds and led the ten-spot. West refused to cover. Feigus then went over to dummy with a small club, led the jack of spades, East covered with the king and Feigus won. He realized that the only way he could make the contract was to find West with the nine of spades. He therefore led the eight of spades, and when West refused to cover, he let it ride. East won with the queen, but then the defense could take no more tricks.

Early Return On Christmas Seals Is Asked

An appeal to citizens who have not yet purchased their Christmas Seals to do so promptly was made today by H. M. Mohr, Seal sale chairman.

WORTHY CAUSE

The Warren County Tuberculosis Society has received the following note in a letter enclosing a $2.00 contribution for Christmas Seals: "Dear Friends: Thank you. We would give more if it were possible, since tuberculosis caused a death in our family. We cannot give more; so we hope other people will. Sincerely, this matter. I am confident that those who have overlooked sending in their contribution will respond promptly when they realize the importance of the work and that the community will back the society's tuberculosis control program 100 per cent.

"It is particularly important that there be no lowering of health standards when all of us want to be able to devote our energy to constructive post-war tasks."

Bookmarks which bear holiday greetings and a reminder of the annual Christmas Seal sale in support of tuberculosis control have been distributed in libraries. The bookmarks are inserted in books borrowed but, unlike the books, need not be returned.

LUDLOW

Ludlow, Dec. 3—Regular services were held in Moriah Lutheran on Sunday at 9:30 a. m. with the Rev. Hans Pearson using as his sermon topic, "Your King." The choir anthem was "Merciful Saviour, Come And Be My Comfort." The flowers were in memory of the late Mr. Nels Mortenson and were placed there by the family.

Many members of the Junior Missionary Band appeared on the program and the Junior Girls' Choir sang "Under The Stars". Mrs. Emil Nelson sang "The Lord's Prayer". Scripture reading and Prayer was given by Mrs. C. E. Carlson and poems were read by Misses Mabel Peterson and Tillie Olson. The prayer service was conducted by several members. An "Open House" was held in the Sheffield parsonage on Friday evening by invitation of Rev. and Mrs. Pearson and was sponsored by the Moriah Martha Society and the Young Women's Missionary Society, the proceeds going to the Post War Emergency Fund which quota amounts to eighty-eight dollars for the two societies. The following short program was given: Piano duet—Misses Margaret Ann and Shirley Swanson. Song entitled "The Heart of God" by the choir. Selection by the Women's chorus, and a duet entitled "Song of Peace" by Messrs. Leland Engman and Paul Swanson, both very recently returned from overseas service. Coffee was served later with Mrs. C. New Sound Movie At Salem Church

The Youth Fellowship is sponsoring the showing of the new sound film, "The Book For the World of Tomorrow", produced by the American Bible Society, at 7 p. m. Sunday in Salem Evangelical church.

The picture, which represents a new departure in the making of movies with a distinctly religious message, was made possible through the cooperation of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. All people interested are invited to attend. There will be a brief worship service accompanying the presentation.

The film illustrates the important place of the Bible in our land and in many others and how through the devoted labors of many men it came to be the Book for the world of yesterday; how its rapid passage into the tongues of nine-tenths of mankind and its world wide distribution have made it the Book for the world of today; and how we whose heritage it is are challenged to make the Bible the Book for the world of tomorrow.

Among the interesting sequences are the first printing from moveable metal type in Europe by Gutenberg; how a translation into a foreign tongue is actually made;

and the story of the Vulgate translation by St. Jerome, still an outstanding work of scholarship. Many fine portions of the musical background were contributed by Warner Brothers, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer and the Radio Corporation of America with the consent of the American Federation of Musicians. The Gutenberg press used in the picture is an exact replica of the original in Mainz, Germany, and was loaned by the Cuneo Press of Chicago.

At a National Shipbuilding Conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., a CIO Union leader proposed a 17½ cents an hour wage boost "across the board" and a 30 per cent weekly salary hike upon reduction of hours for the nation's shipyard workers. John Green, Camden, N. J., president of the CIO Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, said the 30 per cent hike was needed so that the workers' net pay would equal the amount received for a 48-hour week.

In New York, the American Airlines announced granting pay increases averaging 10.7 per cent to its more than 3,000 mechanics throughout the country. The company also said the 40-hour work week would become effective Jan. 1, night workers would get extra pay and each worker would be given six holidays with pay each year. The wage hikes became effective today.

Conferences were to be resumed in Cleveland today in an effort to negotiate settlement of a strike of about 4,000 AFL Greyhound bus workers, who have been off the job since Nov. 1, in a wage dispute.

A hearing will be held Monday by the court to consider offers made by the railroads and three other bidders for the sleeping car properties.

Holmes, in his brief, asserted sale to the railroad combine would "eliminate all competition between the railroads as to both services and types of facilities, perpetuate the existing manufacturing monopoly, eliminate the car pool, give the railroads an additional monopoly on a competing nationwide system of transportation and result in discriminations against the weaker roads."

London, Dec. 7—(A)—Two conservative members of parliament offered a motion today to disapprove the proposal for a $4,400,000,000 United States loan and to reject a ratification bill for Britain's participation in the Bretton Woods monetary settlement.

The motion was offered by Conservative members Robert Boothby and Christopher Hollis, just an hour after the introduction of the ratification bill.

Britain's labor government moved rapidly for ratification of the Bretton Woods plan following completion of negotiations with the United States for the loan.

Those brutalities "were not sporadic incidents, but were often methodically supervised by Japanese officers and non-commissioned officers," Maj. Gen. Russell B. Reynolds, president of the commission, stated as he read the verdict.

Yamashita thus became the first top war criminal of the Pacific to be convicted and sentenced.

Before hearing the verdict, the stocky defendant stood, visibly nervous, while an interpreter read this statement to the court:

"I wish to stand here today with a clear conscience and swear to God I am innocent of these charges. I wish to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the United States officers of the defense, brilliant and upright of officers. I want to thank the commission for a fair trial."

As the interpreter spoke, Yamashita nervously removed his wrist watch, wound it fumblingly.

When the commission was ready to pronounce sentence, the three-star general was led before the bench with his chief counsel, Col. Harry E. Clarke, of Altoona, Pa.

Yamashita's shoulders sagged as he heard the sentence, but he straightened quickly and made a curt bow to the commission. He was quickly led by military police from the court room back to his cell in old Billid prison.

The entire court procedure required less than 15 minutes.

In Tokyo a few hours before the verdict was read, the general's wife said she had declined suggestions from friends to appeal to Mrs. Douglas MacArthur for "help and justice for my husband."

"The method of justice on the American side is admirably fair," she was quoted by the newspaper. "I am pleased with it. I thought my husband should be put on trial naturally because he took command for a long time in the front."

Yamashita, who already has lost an appeal to the Philippines supreme court to take jurisdiction of his case and free him from the military trial, still has an appeal to the United States supreme court pending and at least three additional appeals to make.

Defense counsel has indicated it will take full advantage of every possibility because the Yamashita case is precedent-setting in international law. Yamashita was the first Pacific war leader ever to be tried for war crimes.

Yamashita's first appeal will be made to Lt. Gen. W. F. Styer, commander of army forces in the western Pacific. If Styer upholds the commission, he may appeal to General MacArthur, as Allied commander of the Pacific; then to the U. S. supreme court.

Day after day, for more than three weeks of the 32-day trial, more than 200 prosecution witnesses related testimony of unbelievable horrors throughout the Philippines by troops under Yamashita's command.
